Dear Kate:

I am so sorry that this is such late notice, but attached please find a summons to appear today to give testimony in the [REDACTED] case. Defense counsel told me that she planned on continuing the case so I never sent you a summons, but I checked the list this morning and it appears that she did not change the date. I completely understand if today will not work for you, and obviously I intend on putting you on call, however I figured I would make one last ditch effort in order to see if you are in fact available. If you could please let me know by email as soon as you get this, that would be great. Again I appreciate that this is very last minute, and how busy you guys are right now. Looking forward to hearing from you.

Best, Katie
